In working with individuals and families, creativity beyond your training is required to impact lives. What creative elements will you bring to your work with clients?

Upon self-reflection, what is one personal trait that will challenge you during your working life as a psychologist?

How would you go about managing that?

At times we reflect on our decisions and processes and recognise errors. What is your approach to addressing and managing these moments?

Giving is the essence of what we do as psychologists. How do you give back to the community?

Creating Change in people’s lives is influenced by many different elements. What role do you think your administrative team in your practice has in impacting client’s lives?

Outline an innovative project you have created or developed and how that impacted positively on people or processes?

Forward your resume with a cover letter outlining why you’d be the best choice for this exclusive registrar internship. Address to our Director and Principal Clinical Psychologist
